Welcome.

Congratulations on your purchase.

Most products arrive with something to set up, learn, charge, look after or assemble. NOTHING arrives with none of that.

You do not need to read it. NOTHING will continue to work exactly as intended either way.

This manual follows your purchase. It is not part of NOTHING, which was complete without it.

Quick start.

Using NOTHING.

NOTHING comes with no instructions for use. The following are suggestions.

Five minutes	Sit somewhere comfortable and do nothing for five minutes. No phone, no music, no plan. No further equipment is required.
Giving	Give someone an afternoon. Make no plans and keep no time. The time together is the gift.
Dinner	Leave every screen in another room and eat with the people you live with. NOTHING will not interrupt. It has no notifications.
A walk	Go for a walk with no destination. Bring NOTHING. It weighs 0 g.
Listening	Listen to someone until they have finished speaking. Then wait a moment longer before you answer.
Learning	NOTHING takes up no room in your head. Use that room for the thing you have been meaning to learn.
Boredom	Let yourself be bored. Do not fix it. Most good ideas start there.

Safety information.

Read all safety information before using NOTHING. Keep this guide for future reference.

Do not attempt to open NOTHING. There is nothing to open.

Do not attempt to charge NOTHING. It contains no battery and does not accept power.

NOTHING should not be relied on to perform any function. It will not.

NOTHING is not a substitute for something.

NOTHING contains no small parts, sharp edges, magnets or chemicals.

NOTHING is not a toy. It is also not any other kind of object.

NOTHING may feel unfamiliar at first, particularly in quiet rooms. This is normal and eases with use.

Troubleshooting.

Symptom	Cause	Solution
I can't find my NOTHING.	NOTHING has no location.	No action required. Your NOTHING is where it should be.
Nothing happens.	Normal operation.	No action required.
I don't know what to do with NOTHING.	The most common first experience.	Begin with five minutes. See chapter 06.
NOTHING feels empty.	Normal operation.	That is the point. Use the space as you like.
NOTHING makes me uncomfortable.	NOTHING removes the usual distractions. What is left can feel unfamiliar at first.	Stay with it a moment longer than feels comfortable. It eases with use.
NOTHING has stopped working.	NOTHING has never started working. This is by design.	No action required.
I received something.	What you received was not NOTHING.	Write to hello@no-thing.dk with your order number.
Someone doesn't believe I bought NOTHING.	An understandable reaction.	Show them your order confirmation or your receipt.
I want to buy more NOTHING.	NOTHING cannot be added to.	One is all there is.

Returns.

NOTHING does not need to be returned.

There is nothing to send back, no packaging to keep and no label to print. If you are unsure whether you have returned it, you have.

NOTHING is not refunded. You spent a small amount on NOTHING and received exactly that. The time it gave back to you is yours to keep, and it is worth considerably more than you paid.

If you would still like your money back, try doing nothing for five minutes first. Most requests resolve themselves.

The full conditions are in our Terms of Sale. Nothing in this guide affects your statutory rights.

Environment and disposal.

NOTHING contains no metals, glass, plastics, electronics, batteries or hazardous substances. It was not manufactured, packed or transported.

At the end of its life, NOTHING requires no disposal. Do not place NOTHING in household waste, recycling or any other collection. There is no need.

Regulatory information.

NOTHING emits no radio signals, light, sound, heat or radiation, and draws no power. It carries no labels, serial numbers or markings, as it has no surface on which to carry them.

Sold by [REGISTERED NAME], CVR [CVR NUMBER], [ADDRESS]. Designed in Denmark.

Thank you for buying NOTHING.
Use it well.
